WHAT IS RACEARTH

Racearth is an advanced metaverse project where users can perform activities such as trading, car racing, socializing on the real-world map using blockchain technology.

All races will take place on the map, which is the same as the real-world map. All activities and events will also be done on this map. The games can be played on the computer, and users can have a more realistic experience with their VR. Racearth is a unique metaverse project equipped with the best technologies of car racing and maps.

RACE

Car owners playing the game can attend in races, tune their vehicles, and participate in organizations. If they want, they will be able to make regular income by renting their vehicles.

While car owners will be included in the game with a regular income by renting their vehicles, the users who rent the car will be able to participate in all activities, and vehicle owners will not be able to make additional income from any activities during this rental period.

FINANCIAL STRUCTURE

Since the very first beginning of the Raceearth project, large budgets spent and all technological structure and software skills integrated into the system. Crypto Welts, owner of the project, took responsibility of all the expenses and carried out all the processes.

All the funds on the seed round will be used for project itself, and 50% of it will be used in the token development process. There will be no additional expenses for the software services, planning services and so on because they will be provided by Crypto Welts company itself, and all the marketing activities will be handled with the raised funds.
